CREPUQ - Conférence des recteurs et des principaux des universités du Québec

General Information

The CREPUQ (Conférence des recteurs et des principaux des universités du Québec) is a private institution created in 1963 that comprise all Quebec Universities. It is the main institution that manages academic life in Quebec and also the international relationships with foreign institutions.

CREPUQ offers exchange programs from one semester to a full year; the students get credits from their host university for their diploma at the home university.

Student exchange agreements have been signed with over 500 universities or university consortiums in the countries in the European Union (see partners below plus Switzerland), North und South America (Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Mexico, United States), and Asia (China, Japan, Taiwan).

These programs allow students who are registered at a university (the home institution) to complete part of their program at another university (the host institution) for a semester up to a full academic year.

When participating in a CREPUQ exchange program, students:

- continue to be registered at their home institution
- pay the usual tuition of their home institution and not the tuition of the host institution
- earn credits from the host institution towards their degree from the home institution, and if applicable, continue to receive financial aid for which they are eligible as students of their home institution

Eligibility Criteria:

The exchange programs are open to students who are registered full-time at a university that has signed the CREPUQ Agreement. (The only restriction regarding field of study is for the medical field: for these studies other agreements are necessary to study abroad.)

- Candidates must satisfy the following conditions:
- Completion of the equivalent of at least one year of full-time study in the program in which they are registered; full-time graduate students are also eligible for these programs
- Full-time registration in the same program while they are attending the host institution
- Good academic standing (an average grade between 2.7 and 3.0/4, depending on the home university)
- Fluency in the language used at the host institution
- Approval from the home institution of the courses they plan to take at the host institution

Student Mobility in Numbers

The number of students from each Partner Institution is flexible and basically unrestricted. Usually the number of students coming to Quebec is up to four or five times as high as the number of outgoing students to all partner institutions in the world. However in both direction numbers are steadily increasing over the last 5 years. The biggest group of incoming students comes from French Partner Institutions.

Financial Support

Ministry of Quebec Education - Student Mobility Bursary

The Ministry of Quebec Education (MEQ) offers a Student Mobility Bursary to students who qualify as Quebec residents and are contemplating studying outside of Quebec. The MEQ bursary is awarded to qualified students regardless of the amount of governmental or personal funding declared in the Affidavit of Finances.

L'Office Franco-Quebecois Pour La Jeunesse (OFQJ)

Students electing to study in France may be eligible for a special travel/orientation package offered by the OFQJ. * Please note: Most of exchange programs as well as CREPUQ’s programs are offered to students from undergraduates to doctoral students. Due to the high number of programs, individual information could not be provided.

** Please note:

Due to the high number of programs, individual numbers of placements could not be provided. However, since numbers are based on mutual demand, numbers are flexible and vary from year to year (for the UK sometimes restrictions occur, when they are requested by partner institution). Udm reports that about 50 % of their students studying in Europe choose French Partner Institution; also Spain and Belgium are popular destinations.

Eligibility:

- For undergrad students: 24 credits in a program
- For Graduate students: 9 credits
- Language proficiency
- Approval from the department of studies.

Trent, Acadia, Brock Universities and the Universities of British Columbia and Manitoba are members of the Canada Year in Freiburg Program, an arrangement which makes it possible for 7 students from each of the participating schools to study at the Albert-Ludwigs-Universität Freiburg for one full academic year.
